AUSTRIA HAS SOUGHT TERMS OF PEACE

RUSSIA'S PROPOSITIONS ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE

Terms Offered By The Czar's Government Rejected in Their Entirety

POLISH LEGISLATOR URGES END OF WAR

In theEvent of the Opening of Negotiations for Peace Austria Would be Willing to Have the United States Act as Intermediary—No Doubt of Austria's Being Tired of the Conflict, in Which She Has Suffered Severely and Received Little Aid From the Kaiser Serbs Claim to Have Reoccupied Belgrade.

(By United Press)

London, Dec. 15.—Austria has sought terms of peace from Russia, but the terms of peace presented by Russia were not acceptable to Austria. The Russian terms were the surrender of Galicia to Poland to form a kingdom under the sovereignty of Russia, the surrender of Bosnia and Herzogovinia to Servia and Montenegro, the withdrawal from the German alliance, the granting of a new constitution to Austrian Hungary and dividing it into small federal states, and the giving of automony to Bohemia, were the terms of peace which were rejected in their entirity.

United States as Intermediary

Berlin, Dec. 15.—The Official Press Bureau yesterday gave out the following:

"Austrian newspapers say that when negotiations for peace begin America will have earned the right to act as intermediary. These papers print sympathetic articles in connection with the opening of the American congress. They point out that the sending of gifts by American children to the children of dead soldiers is proof of the high motives by which the nation is guided."

Poland Leader For Peace

Lemberg, Galicia, Dec. 15.—M. Mernunovitch, an influential member of the Polish delegation to the Austrian parliament, has caused to be published in a Polish newspaper of Lemberg a request to Poles in court, diplomatic and government circles at Vienna to exert all of their influence toward obtaining an immediate conclusion of a separate peace agreement between Austria and Russia, without reference to Germany.

In his announcement, M. Merunovitch states that it is the sacred duty of the Polish aristocracy to take this step, in view of the future interests of Austria and Poland. He expresses the opinion that the present time offers a favorable opportunity for the conclusion of peace with honor for Austria.

Serbs Reoccupy Belgrade

London, Dec. 15.—The Servians, after a fierce battle, have reoccupied Belgrade, according to a Nish dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph company.

HITS METHODS AT "REFORM SCHOOL"

Says Huntington Reformatory Practices Are Demoralizing

DENOUNCES THE "BLACK HOLE"

Member of Prison Association of New York Declares Boys Sent to the Reformatory Are Punished in a Brutal Manner, Equal to the Plan of the Infamous English Convict Ship.

In a letter to the Philadelphia Press of last Sunday, Richard M. Hurd, a member of the Prison association of New York, has the following to say relative to the treatment received by prisoners at the Huntington reformatory, to which Clearfield county sends a number of young men and boys in the hope that they will reform or be reformed. Mr. Hurd says:

The Famous "Black Hole"

"Recently I visited the old English convict ship used to transfer criminals to Australia, moored at the foot of Market street. The supreme horror of this floating hell was the "Black Hole,' a small cell with a solid door to keep out light and air (a few holes being bored just above to keep the prisoner just alive) and equipped with a large ring fastened in the wall in such a way that lying down or sitting down was impossible. The guide explained that this was reserved for incorrigibles, who were kept there a number of days and many of whom became insane from this punishment. The crowd eagerly drank in the details of this torture of a century back and congratulated themselves that these horrors were things of the past.

Torture in Reformatory

"I invite you to visit the state reformatory for boys, at Huntington, Pa., a large and old institution, which probably the people of the state consider a model. On a recent visit there, when I was courteously shown around by the warden, Mr. Patton, I noted seven kinds of cells, growing gradually smaller and with less light and air as degrees of punishment, till the supreme horror was reached—practically a duplicate of the 'Black Hole' of the convict ship—a dark cell with a solid door to keep out light and air and in the side of the wall a large iron ring, to which, Mr. Patton told me, the boys were handcuffed so that they had to stand while in the dark cell.

One Boy Suicide

"It certainly is difficult to control one's indignation at such a persistence of medieval barbarism. Consider, to this reformatory are sent boys from fifteen years up, mostly for petty crimes, stealing and pilfering—little criminals from neglect and environment perhaps—only fifteen years old, and the 'Black Hole' stares them in the face if a rigid repression of all natural instincts is not observed. Is it any wonder that some get up courage to kill themselves? One boy hanged himself before he had been there twenty-four hours. As Mr. Patton said, 'he didn't have time to get acquainted with us.' Perhaps the other boys told him what he had to expect.

Old Prison Plan in Vogue

"Even the brief visit which we paid to this reformatory showed that it was managed on the horrible old prison plan, which the indifference of the public has allowed to be handed down for so many long years.

"The boys work at trades in the morning and again in the afternoon and have school in the evening. Talking is forbidden in general and there is no baseball or outdoor exercise or games even on Saturday afternoons. All is an unnatural repression which shows in the dull and unresponsive faces of the boys who are not allowed even to talk to visitors. The severe discipline is maintained by various grades of punishment, leading up to the 'Black Hole.'

Ready for Scrap Heap

"Such a method of management is ready for the scrap heap, where it has been sent in many states. The spirit of such an institution in order to reform a boy must be diametrically opposite—first he must be treated like a human being, the aim being not punishment, but a moral upbuilding, the method being not many penalties for delinquencies, but gradual rewards for good conduct, and all the exasperating petty, silly, unnecessary repressive rules being thrown overboard, and the boys being allowed to act and talk naturally. Too much work and school is not beneficial; there should be a little outdoor exercise and play to work off the physical energies which, if worked this entire, may far worse ones as a substitute. At least half the work of the boys should be out of doors on a farm or it is to the credit of this institution that a small percentage of boys are given farm work to do, the few boys who cannot be trusted even with supervision being kept in the shops.

EDITOR STOKES SUES THREE FOR TRYING TO RUIN HIM

Coudersport, Pa., Dec. 15.—Much excitement was caused here yesterday by the announcement that M. T. Stokes, editor of the Coudersport Enterprise, whose enemies attempted to run him out of business last year during a political campaign, once by fire and another time by dynamite applied to his plant, and who has been sued by ex-Judge John Ormerod for libel, placing damages at $10,000, sued yesterday, charging conspiracy to ruin him financially, ex-Judge Armerod, W. F. DuBois and ex-Assemblyman W. K. Swetland, prominent attorneys. Stokes places his damages at $10,000.

COUNTY TEACHERS BEING INSTRUCTED

Fifty-First Annual Institute in Session in Opera House

PROCEEDINGS OF INTEREST

Pedagogues Being Given Good Advice, Which Will Enable Them to Increase Their Efficiency and Result in Improvement of Conditions in the Schools.

The first session of the fifty-first annual teachers institute for Clearfield county, being held in the opera house this week opened at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The afternoon's program was both instructive and inspiring to the teacher looking for professional improvement.

The program was opened with devotional exercises conducted by Dr. H. B. Beeler. This was followed by music by the institute, which is instructed again this year by Prof. J. V. Yoder, the music man from Huntingdon, who has sung his way into the hearts of the teachers here for the past two years and has sent the teachers back to their schools prepared to teach music to the child as it should be taught.

Superintendent's Remarks

County Superintendent C. A. Weisgerber, in a few well chosen remarks, spoke of the dignity of the teachers' calling and of the good of the county institute. He urged the teachers to be punctual. He spoke of the high place Clearfield county institutes have held in the state during the past years and said that it should be the aim of this institute to maintain that standard. In closing he said that the teachers could be divided into three classes—the uninterested, the partially interested, and the interested—and that that he hoped by the end of the week every teacher would have joined the latter class.

Dr. Colegrove's Lecture

The first instructor of the afternoon, Dr. Chauncey P. Colegrove, professor of education, Iowa State Teachers college, ably addressed the institute upon "The Nature of Our Work." In the introduction of his remarks he congratulated the audience upon the fact that our country is not rent by war as Mexico is or shocked by a struggle such as our parent nations are fighting; upon the glory of the Keystone state, and the teachers calling.

The address was divided into two subheads, the child's needs and the teacher's mission. In the tener of his remarks the speaker said that the child's eyes were closed, the windows of its soul were unopened. The teacher stands out side the child's real self. The teacher is the light bearer to the child; she can only reach him through the gateway of the senses. The teacher's mission is to open the windows and gain an entrance into the citidel of the child's intellect.

"There is nothing in the mind that has not been in the senses," said the speaker. He spoke of Helen Keller and her wonderful life after her teacher had opened the gateway and let a glimmer of light in and of the fact that we interpet only in terms of the past, that knowledge is only observation plus inference.

NUMBER OF GERMAN TRENCHES TAKEN

A Number of German Trenches Taken by the Allies Between the Meuse Fortress and Metz—Decisive Victory for the Russians North of Warsaw, the German Front Having Been Pierced by the Czar's Troops—Russian Success Will Have Important Bearing Upon Future Operations and Place the German Left Wing in Danger.

Trenches in that district have been captured by the French and the enemy's artillery forced to withdraw. Elsewhere the allied artillery continued its good work.

Petrograd, Dec. 15.—Reports reaching here yesterday from the front state that the operations of Russian forces north of Warsaw, partial success of which was announced last week, have now resulted in a decisive victory, after having pierced the German front beyond Mlawa and Przasnysz.

It is said here that the Russians will now be able to [illegible] their forces from fighting to the Masurian lakes.

Clearfield county teachers institute, Clearfield, Dec 15-18

Christmas, Friday. December 25.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1914

Good evening' The real Christmas spirit dwelleth not in the heart of the man or woman who thinks only of the gifts he or she will receive

Ten days in which to select that present; better hustle

Carranza is another Mexican general who is paving the way to a sojourn abroad.

The stores which are advertised in the Progress are the most crowded in the holiday season

Clearfield county can boast of having the prettiest school marams in the state of Pennsylvania

You can tell the progressive citizen by the amount of snow he has allowed to remain on his sidewalk

Be sure your poor neighbors children have warm clothing to keep them comfortable in this cold weather

In the European war it is the private who does the fighting and the officer who receives the decoration

License court next year promises to be full of excitement judging from the activity of the anti saloon people

Lest they overlook the fact, we wish to inform the pretty school teachers that their worthy superintendent is a bachelor

And even at that, the manufacturer of those iron crosses may not have to work his factory over time to meet his demand

Don't forget to buy Red Cross seals, these are not war tax stamps, over which some people are worrying at present

Anyhow, we don't hear of any of those Pittsburg game hogs sending money into this county to help feed pheasants and quail.

About the most unpopular man in London today is a man named Cobb, who is alleged to have faiked an interview with Lord Kitchener.

It is reported that the Austrians are willing to stop. There are some people over in Servia who are of the opinion that Austria quit last week.

Then it may be said that the apologists for Dr. Kalbfus are either pot hunters or men who don't know the difference between the muzzle and the butt of a gun.

Ex-President Huerta of Mexico is in Spain, where he is chuckling to himself over the failure of the United States to compel him to salute the American flag.

Snow drifts five and six feet high are as bumps on a log to the piles of snow the ancient inhabitant used to wade through in the early history of the county, to hear the aforesaid a. i. tell it.

The government at Washington has notified the Mexican brigands who are fighting near the border that if they kill any more Americans they will have to apologize, and the Carranzaists say, "Go to"

Still, no hunter ever tackled a bull moose without being prepared for trouble, and those Republicans who think they will have an easy thing of it in downing the Progressive party may land in the political hospital.

Andrew Carnegie has made himself persona grata to certain elements in Germany by declaring that the European war was brought about by the military autocrats by which the kaiser is surrounded Andy is not likely to receive a hearty welcome if he should visit Berlin

This is the season of the year when the young man who contemplates matrimony realizes that it is wise to wed a robust girl—one who can wield the snow shovel when he is seized with "misery' in the back—or laziness

Naco Arizona must be a pretty dangerous place in which to live just at present what with shells flying over the town from the Mexican side and Washington ignoring the appeal of the citizens for help

THE COUNTY INSTITUTE

County institutes were established for the purpose of giving public school teachers an opportunity to enjoy holiday and themselves become pupils to experienced educators In former days the teachers regarded an institute as the means to the gratification of their desire for social enjoyment rather than as a source of inspiration to the improvement of educational conditions in the schools and it must be said that as conducted half century or less ago the institute was little better than a gathering of pedagogues who knew more than the 'instructors who were supposed to give them instruction in the profession of teaching

Thanks to the forward movement of almost every feature connected with educational institutions the county institute has advanced in a wonderful manner The instructors who are employed to impart information to the teachers are men of wide experience in pedagogues, men who know the needs of the efficient school teacher and men who have the faculty of making their views plain to the teacher in an intelligible manner The county superintendent of today seeks to engage only such talent as he believes will bring the most satisfactory results

Under the law fixing the minimum wage a school teacher may be paid there is a noticeable improvement in the ability and character of the country school teacher The school district which pays its teachers fair wages is the district which is able to secure the best help It is only necessary for [illegible] to take a glance at the [illegible] teachers who have been [illegible] the opera house here by [illegible] superintendent Weissgerber to prove the fact that there has been decided improvement of the material from which teachers are moulded and that the array of female teachers is one which cannot be equalled in brightness and good looks in any other county in this part of the state

NEXT LICENSE COURT

There will be something doing at the next session of liquor license court. There can be no denying the fact that the anti-liquor interests are active in their campaign against license, and if these interests have learned anything from past experience they will enter the court much better equipped to fight against applicants than they have been in the past

Under the ruling of the court certain rules and regulations were promulgated for the government of the liquor traffic. By order of the court proper officials have been investigating the hotels of the county with a view to ascertaining whether or not the rules of the court have been observed. Those hotel keepers who have not lived up to the rules may expect trouble when they apply for a renewal of their licenses.

Those hotel keepers who have ignored the law cannot plead ignorance or that they have not had ample warning that an effort would be made to prevent them securing license If they failed through wilfulness to improve conditions in and about their hotels they will have only themselves to blame if they find themselves confronted by the evidence of their defiant disregard of the law and the rulings of the court The hotel keepers who complied rigidly with the law will have the precedent of the law to aid them in securing license and necessity for the existence of their hotels to warrant them in asking for a renewal of the right to sell liquor.

QUEEN MARY INTERESTED IN WOMAN'S RELIEF WORK

By P. M Sarle
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Nov. 14 (By mail to New York)—Queen Mary has taken a personal interest in the work of the American Woman's War Relief fund. The other day she made a visit, accompanied by Lady Paget (formerly Miss Julia Moke, of New York) and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt (formerly Miss Mary Burns, of New York), wife of the colonial secretary, to the hospital which the American women resident in England are conducting at Paignton, Devonshire More than 600 soldiers have thus far been treated in the institution. In addition to the large staff of thoroughly trained English nurses two units of the American Red Cross have now been installed at the hospital All who have visited the place are struck not only with the comforts provided for the patients but their general cheerfulness

Besides this hospital work the fund has presented a number of motor ambulances to the war office, which are now being used with excellent results just behind the firing line in Flanders

Among the other activities of the American women has been the establishment of workrooms for the employment of women and girls who would otherwise be without resources on account of the war Four of these are now in full operation—in St Pancras Woolwich, Greenwich and Islington The Duchess of Marlborough (Consuelo Vanderbilt) is particularly interested in this phase of the American relief work

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any druggist a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

BRAVE BELGIAN BOY THOUGHT OF SUFFERERS

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 12. (By Mail to New York)—At Knocke-sur-Mer, on the Belgian coast, there is a young Belgian who helped a number of British soldiers to make their way to safety from the German lines. Asked by the British consul what he wished for a reward, he said, "clothes and food for ninety poor Belgian refugees." The Anglo-Belgian relief fund sent him immediately from London thirty enormous cases full of clothing and supplies of every kind.

BANK CLERK'S PARENTS DIDN'T FEEL SO BADLY

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 6. (By Mail to New York)—A city bank clerk decided after many sleepless nights to enlist. But he shied at the task of telling his fond parents, who live in the country, feeling sure it would break their hearts to have him go to the front. Finally, after profound thought, he wrote them, imparting the momentous news gently as possible taking care to point out that he couldn't resist the call of duty. Few days later a letter from his mother arrived, saying: "Glad you've joined the army. It will be a nice change for you."

AN ITALIAN NEWSBOY WINS FAME AS POET

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Praised by Ruskin, Gosse and Swinburne for verse written while he was in his 'teens, Scharmel Iris, once a hustling newsie, is doing literary hack work, teaching Italian and fingering happily today "Lyrics of a Lad," his first book, and what is said to be the first book of verse by an Italian published in English in this country.

Iris was a newsie when Ruskin, the great English critic, praised his verse. When he was thirteen the poet Swinburne wrote to a New York paper a tribute to his verse. Yet in spite of this recognition Iris continued as a factory worker. He is now twenty-five years old, and so far as finances are concerned, a literary hack, but his book is on sale and, Iris is happy.

"It will rebound to the credit of my dear Italy," he says.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The navy department was scheduled today to open its bids for several new submarines. One of the group will be larger than Germany's famous death dealing vessel, the U-9.

The department plans call for the largest submarines in the world—a vessel of such power and construction that she can accompany the fleet wherever it might go.

SHORT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Republican Organization Outlines Policy to be Adopted

DOUBT AS TO REFORM BILLS

Governor Brumbaugh Expected to Staud Firmly by His Promise to Give the People of the State Beneficient Laws, and the Vares May Stand Back of Him.

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—The coming session of the Pennsylvania legislature is to be limited to three months, or, at the most, four, with the odds in favor of the shorter period

The policy to be followed by the Republican organization, which is in control of the legislature, will be to reduce the flood of legislation instead of increasing it.

The short session plan, together with the policy of reducing legislation, has been decided upon, not by members of the legislature, but by United States Senator Penrose and State Senators McNichol and Vare, who got together yesterday in Penrose's offices for the first of a series of conferences with respelt to the approaching legislative session.

Just what the policy of the organization will be with respect to measures dealing with child labor, local option, workmen's compensation and like matters, will develop later. Governor-elect Brumbaugh has declared emphatically that he will fight for these measures, even if he has to fight alone. If such a situation should develop, and those who know the affiliations of the potential organization leaders with the interests that would oppose such legislation, believe that it is sure to come, the Vares, who have seized every occasion to take their stand with the governor-elect, would probably line up behind him.

OLD AUSTRIAN RESERVISTS SENT INTO GALICIA

(By United Press)

Rome, Nov. 1 (By Mail to New York)—Vienna messages state the oldest reservists, who since the outbreak of the war, have been guarding the roads, railways and public buildings, have been sent to the front in Galicia. It is illegal to take reservists out of their own province, but the Emperor Franz Joseph got over this difficulty by issuing a proclamation: "In view of the heroic dash of the Austrian army, the emperor has granted the reservists also the honor of going to fight for the defense of the fatherland."

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED IN A CLEVELAND FIRE

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15.—A natural gas explosion in a two-story apartment house, at 1616 Madison avenue, last night, killed seven persons, seriously injured eight and wrecked the two-story building.

Windows for a block around were broken and persons in a drug store across the street were thrown off their feet and injured by broken glass.

The exact cause of the explosion has not been ascertained. A strong odor of escaping gas had been noticed in the vicinity. A photograph studio, occupied the first floor of the apartment and it is supposed the escaping gas became ignited there.

The explosion blew the walls of the building and the wreckage at once caught fire. Firemen dragged the dead and dying from the blazing mass at the risk of their lives.

In conclusion he said that suggested ideas are the basis of emotions and amke habits and character; that to get the child to think of beautiful things is to build a beautiful character, closing with the beautiful quotation "As a man thinketh, so is he."

Other Speakers

The second speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Arthur Henry Harrop, instructor in Meadville college, spoke upon the subject, "Getting Ready for the Day," emphasizing the need of physical, mental and spiritual preparedness by several very illustrative stories.

The concluding address was made by Dr. Alfred C. Thompson, principal of the Brockport normal school, who, although limited in time, gave a very instructive review of his subject, "Essentials in Education," naming the teacher; the pupil and the subject as the essentials and urging the necessity of an expert manner in bringing the pupil and the subject together.

Tuesday Morning

Drr. Colegrove, the first speakne tl morning, spoke upon the importance of reading and problems in teaching it. The topic was handled masterfully. The speaker classified music and reading as twin arts. Reading, he said, was the most important of all branches studied by the child. No man or woman ever writes to the teacher asking to have his child excused from studying reading. Reading is the keynote to all other work. If the child does act gain a mastery of reading in the first grades he is handicapped for life. It is there that his attitude toward books ods formed, and that attitude will be a good index to all his other work. The teacher should recognize the delicacy of the problem with which he is dealing and handle it delicately. Language is a medium between souls, and books give us thne best from the past.

The secodn period was occupied by Dr. Harrop, who spoke upon the "Characteristics of Definition."

The last period was occupied by Dr. Thompson, who has had extensive experience in the selcting of teachers, first as superintendent of school and now as the principal of a normal.

In his lecture he quoted Mark Twain and advised all teachers to read "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn. He believes every teachr must know boys and have a sense of humor.

He read two letters from persons applying to him for teachers, giving requirements some of which were, discipline, health, and appearance, dwelling principally upon health and its importance.

The quotation "Teachers are born and not made," is false, he said. They are being made all the time.

Lecture This Evening

This evening the lecture in the opera house will be "Color Line and Picket Guard," by Montaville Flowers. Edward Amherst Ott says: "Mr Montaville Flowers, as a leader in illustrative acting, has taken a step forward that will be epoch making. His lectures, typified in his Hamlet creat a new adn greater field for himself, a new and higher standard of Lyceum achievement."

AUSTRIA HAS SOUGHT TERMS OF PEACE

RUSSIA'S PROPOSITIONS ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE

Terms Offered By The Czar's Government Rejected in Their Entirety

POLISH LEGISLATOR URGES END OF WAR

In theEvent of the Opening of Negotiations for Peace Austria Would be Willing to Have the United States Act as Intermediary—No Doubt of Austria's Being Tired of the Conflict, in Which She Has Suffered Severely and Received Little Aid From the Kaiser Serbs Claim to Have Reoccupied Belgrade.

(By United Press)

London, Dec. 15.—Austria has sought terms of peace from Russia, but the terms of peace presented by Russia were not acceptable to Austria. The Russian terms were the surrender of Galicia to Poland to form a kingdom under the sovereignty of Russia, the surrender of Bosnia and Herzogovinia to Servia and Montenegro, the withdrawal from the German alliance, the granting of a new constitution to Austrian Hungary and dividing it into small federal states, and the giving of automony to Bohemia, were the terms of peace which were rejected in their entirity.

United States as Intermediary

Berlin, Dec. 15.—The Official Press Bureau yesterday gave out the following:

"Austrian newspapers say that when negotiations for peace begin America will have earned the right to act as intermediary. These papers print sympathetic articles in connection with the opening of the American congress. They point out that the sending of gifts by American children to the children of dead soldiers is proof of the high motives by which the nation is guided."

Poland Leader For Peace

Lemberg, Galicia, Dec. 15.—M. Mernunovitch, an influential member of the Polish delegation to the Austrian parliament, has caused to be published in a Polish newspaper of Lemberg a request to Poles in court, diplomatic and government circles at Vienna to exert all of their influence toward obtaining an immediate conclusion of a separate peace agreement between Austria and Russia, without reference to Germany.

In his announcement, M. Merunovitch states that it is the sacred duty of the Polish aristocracy to take this step, in view of the future interests of Austria and Poland. He expresses the opinion that the present time offers a favorable opportunity for the conclusion of peace with honor for Austria.

HITS METHODS AT "REFORM SCHOOL"

Says Huntington Reformatory Practices Are Demoralizing

DENOUNCES THE "BLACK HOLE"

Member of Prison Association of New York Declares Boys Sent to the Reformatory Are Punished in a Brutal Manner, Equal to the Plan of the Infamous English Convict Ship.

In a letter to the Philadelphia Press of last Sunday, Richard M. Hurd, a member of the Prison association of New York, has the following to say relative to the treatment received by prisoners at the Huntington reformatory, to which Clearfield county sends a number of young men and boys in the hope that they will reform or be reformed. Mr. Hurd says:

The Famous "Black Hole"

"Recently I visited the old English convict ship used to transfer criminals to Australia, moored at the foot of Market street. The supreme horror of this floating hell was the "Black Hole,' a small cell with a solid door to keep out light and air (a few holes being bored just above to keep the prisoner just alive) and equipped with a large ring fastened in the wall in such a way that lying down or sitting down was impossible. The guide explained that this was reserved for incorrigibles, who were kept there a number of days and many of whom became insane from this punishment. The crowd eagerly drank in the details of this torture of a century back and congratulated themselves that these horrors were things of the past.

Torture in Reformatory

"I invite you to visit the state reformatory for boys, at Huntington, Pa., a large and old institution, which probably the people of the state consider a model. On a recent visit there, when I was courteously shown around by the warden, Mr. Patton, I noted seven kinds of cells, growing gradually smaller and with less light and air as degrees of punishment, till the supreme horror was reached—practically a duplicate of the 'Black Hole' of the convict ship—a dark cell with a solid door to keep out light and air and in the side of the wall a large iron ring, to which, Mr. Patton told me, the boys were handcuffed so that they had to stand while in the dark cell.

One Boy Suicide

"It certainly is difficult to control one's indignation at such a persistence of medieval barbarism. Consider, to this reformatory are sent boys from fifteen years up, mostly for petty crimes, stealing and pilfering—little criminals from neglect and environment perhaps—only fifteen years old, and the 'Black Hole' stares them in the face if a rigid repression of all natural instincts is not observed. Is it any wonder that some get up courage to kill themselves? One boy hanged himself before he had been there twenty-four hours. As Mr. Patton said, 'he didn't have time to get acquainted with us.' Perhaps the other boys told him what he had to expect.

Old Prison Plan in Vogue

"Even the brief visit which we paid to this reformatory showed that it was managed on the horrible old prison plan, which the indifference of the public has allowed to be handed down for so many long years.

"The boys work at trades in the morning and again in the afternoon and have school in the evening. Talking is forbidden in general and there is no baseball or outdoor exercise or games even on Saturday afternoons. All is an unnatural repression which shows in the dull and unresponsive faces of the boys who are not allowed even to talk to visitors. The severe discipline is maintained by various grades of punishment, leading up to the 'Black Hole.'

Ready for Scrap Heap

"Such a method of management is ready for the scrap heap, where it has been sent in many states. The spirit of such an institution in order to reform a boy must be diametrically opposite—first he must be treated like a human being, the aim being not punishment, but a moral upbuilding, the method being not many penalties for delinquencies, but gradual rewards for good conduct, and all the exasperating petty, silly, unnecessary repressive rules being thrown overboard, and the boys being allowed to act and talk naturally. Too much work and school is not beneficial; there should be a little outdoor exercise and play to work off the physical energies which, if worked this entire, may far worse ones as a substitute. At least half the work of the boys should be out of doors on a farm or it is to the credit of this institution that a small percentage of boys are given farm work to do, the few boys who cannot be trusted even with supervision being kept in the shops.

COUNTY TEACHERS BEING INSTRUCTED

Fifty-First Annual Institute in Session in Opera House

PROCEEDINGS OF INTEREST

Pedagogues Being Given Good Advice, Which Will Enable Them to Increase Their Efficiency and Result in Improvement of Conditions in the Schools.

The first session of the fifty-first annual teachers institute for Clearfield county, being held in the opera house this week opened at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The afternoon's program was both instructive and inspiring to the teacher looking for professional improvement.

The program was opened with devotional exercises conducted by Dr. H. B. Beeler. This was followed by music by the institute, which is instructed again this year by Prof. J. V. Yoder, the music man from Huntingdon, who has sung his way into the hearts of the teachers here for the past two years and has sent the teachers back to their schools prepared to teach music to the child as it should be taught.

Superintendent's Remarks

County Superintendent C. A. Weisgerber, in a few well chosen remarks, spoke of the dignity of the teachers' calling and of the good of the county institute. He urged the teachers to be punctual. He spoke of the high place Clearfield county institutes have held in the state during the past years and said that it should be the aim of this institute to maintain that standard. In closing he said that the teachers could be divided into three classes—the uninterested, the partially interested, and the interested—and that that he hoped by the end of the week every teacher would have joined the latter class.

Dr. Colegrove's Lecture

The first instructor of the afternoon, Dr. Chauncey P. Colegrove, professor of education, Iowa State Teachers college, ably addressed the institute upon "The Nature of Our Work." In the introduction of his remarks he congratulated the audience upon the fact that our country is not rent by war as Mexico is or shocked by a struggle such as our parent nations are fighting; upon the glory of the Keystone state, and the teachers calling.

The address was divided into two subheads, the child's needs and the teacher's mission. In the tener of his remarks the speaker said that the child's eyes were closed, the windows of its soul were unopened. The teacher stands out side the child's real self. The teacher is the light bearer to the child; she can only reach him through the gateway of the senses. The teacher's mission is to open the windows and gain an entrance into the citidel of the child's intellect.

"There is nothing in the mind that has not been in the senses," said the speaker. He spoke of Helen Keller and her wonderful life after her teacher had opened the gateway and let a glimmer of light in and of the fact that we interpet only in terms of the past, that knowledge is only observation plus inference.

NUMBER OF GERMAN TRENCHES TAKEN

A Number of German Trenches Taken by the Allies Between the Meuse Fortress and Metz—Decisive Victory for the Russians North of Warsaw, the German Front Having Been Pierced by the Czar's Troops—Russian Success Will Have Important Bearing Upon Future Operations and Place the German Left Wing in Danger.

It is said here that the Russians will now be able to [illegible] their forces from fighting to the Masurian lakes.

Clearfield county teachers institute, Clearfield, Dec 15-18

Christmas, Friday. December 25.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1914

Good evening' The real Christmas spirit dwelleth not in the heart of the man or woman who thinks only of the gifts he or she will receive

Ten days in which to select that present; better hustle

Carranza is another Mexican general who is paving the way to a sojourn abroad.

The stores which are advertised in the Progress are the most crowded in the holiday season

Clearfield county can boast of having the prettiest school marams in the state of Pennsylvania

You can tell the progressive citizen by the amount of snow he has allowed to remain on his sidewalk

Be sure your poor neighbors children have warm clothing to keep them comfortable in this cold weather

In the European war it is the private who does the fighting and the officer who receives the decoration

License court next year promises to be full of excitement judging from the activity of the anti saloon people

Lest they overlook the fact, we wish to inform the pretty school teachers that their worthy superintendent is a bachelor

And even at that, the manufacturer of those iron crosses may not have to work his factory over time to meet his demand

Don't forget to buy Red Cross seals, these are not war tax stamps, over which some people are worrying at present

Anyhow, we don't hear of any of those Pittsburg game hogs sending money into this county to help feed pheasants and quail.

About the most unpopular man in London today is a man named Cobb, who is alleged to have faiked an interview with Lord Kitchener.

It is reported that the Austrians are willing to stop. There are some people over in Servia who are of the opinion that Austria quit last week.

Then it may be said that the apologists for Dr. Kalbfus are either pot hunters or men who don't know the difference between the muzzle and the butt of a gun.

Ex-President Huerta of Mexico is in Spain, where he is chuckling to himself over the failure of the United States to compel him to salute the American flag.

Snow drifts five and six feet high are as bumps on a log to the piles of snow the ancient inhabitant used to wade through in the early history of the county, to hear the aforesaid a. i. tell it.

The government at Washington has notified the Mexican brigands who are fighting near the border that if they kill any more Americans they will have to apologize, and the Carranzaists say, "Go to"

Still, no hunter ever tackled a bull moose without being prepared for trouble, and those Republicans who think they will have an easy thing of it in downing the Progressive party may land in the political hospital.

Andrew Carnegie has made himself persona grata to certain elements in Germany by declaring that the European war was brought about by the military autocrats by which the kaiser is surrounded Andy is not likely to receive a hearty welcome if he should visit Berlin

This is the season of the year when the young man who contemplates matrimony realizes that it is wise to wed a robust girl—one who can wield the snow shovel when he is seized with "misery' in the back—or laziness

Naco Arizona must be a pretty dangerous place in which to live just at present what with shells flying over the town from the Mexican side and Washington ignoring the appeal of the citizens for help

THE COUNTY INSTITUTE

County institutes were established for the purpose of giving public school teachers an opportunity to enjoy holiday and themselves become pupils to experienced educators In former days the teachers regarded an institute as the means to the gratification of their desire for social enjoyment rather than as a source of inspiration to the improvement of educational conditions in the schools and it must be said that as conducted half century or less ago the institute was little better than a gathering of pedagogues who knew more than the 'instructors who were supposed to give them instruction in the profession of teaching

Thanks to the forward movement of almost every feature connected with educational institutions the county institute has advanced in a wonderful manner The instructors who are employed to impart information to the teachers are men of wide experience in pedagogues, men who know the needs of the efficient school teacher and men who have the faculty of making their views plain to the teacher in an intelligible manner The county superintendent of today seeks to engage only such talent as he believes will bring the most satisfactory results

Under the law fixing the minimum wage a school teacher may be paid there is a noticeable improvement in the ability and character of the country school teacher The school district which pays its teachers fair wages is the district which is able to secure the best help It is only necessary for [illegible] to take a glance at the [illegible] teachers who have been [illegible] the opera house here by [illegible] superintendent Weissgerber to prove the fact that there has been decided improvement of the material from which teachers are moulded and that the array of female teachers is one which cannot be equalled in brightness and good looks in any other county in this part of the state

There will be something doing at the next session of liquor license court. There can be no denying the fact that the anti-liquor interests are active in their campaign against license, and if these interests have learned anything from past experience they will enter the court much better equipped to fight against applicants than they have been in the past

Under the ruling of the court certain rules and regulations were promulgated for the government of the liquor traffic. By order of the court proper officials have been investigating the hotels of the county with a view to ascertaining whether or not the rules of the court have been observed. Those hotel keepers who have not lived up to the rules may expect trouble when they apply for a renewal of their licenses.

Those hotel keepers who have ignored the law cannot plead ignorance or that they have not had ample warning that an effort would be made to prevent them securing license If they failed through wilfulness to improve conditions in and about their hotels they will have only themselves to blame if they find themselves confronted by the evidence of their defiant disregard of the law and the rulings of the court The hotel keepers who complied rigidly with the law will have the precedent of the law to aid them in securing license and necessity for the existence of their hotels to warrant them in asking for a renewal of the right to sell liquor.

QUEEN MARY INTERESTED IN WOMAN'S RELIEF WORK

By P. M Sarle
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Nov. 14 (By mail to New York)—Queen Mary has taken a personal interest in the work of the American Woman's War Relief fund. The other day she made a visit, accompanied by Lady Paget (formerly Miss Julia Moke, of New York) and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt (formerly Miss Mary Burns, of New York), wife of the colonial secretary, to the hospital which the American women resident in England are conducting at Paignton, Devonshire More than 600 soldiers have thus far been treated in the institution. In addition to the large staff of thoroughly trained English nurses two units of the American Red Cross have now been installed at the hospital All who have visited the place are struck not only with the comforts provided for the patients but their general cheerfulness

Besides this hospital work the fund has presented a number of motor ambulances to the war office, which are now being used with excellent results just behind the firing line in Flanders

Among the other activities of the American women has been the establishment of workrooms for the employment of women and girls who would otherwise be without resources on account of the war Four of these are now in full operation—in St Pancras Woolwich, Greenwich and Islington The Duchess of Marlborough (Consuelo Vanderbilt) is particularly interested in this phase of the American relief work

When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any druggist a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

Attention, Firemen.

BRAVE BELGIAN BOY THOUGHT OF SUFFERERS

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 12. (By Mail to New York)—At Knocke-sur-Mer, on the Belgian coast, there is a young Belgian who helped a number of British soldiers to make their way to safety from the German lines. Asked by the British consul what he wished for a reward, he said, "clothes and food for ninety poor Belgian refugees." The Anglo-Belgian relief fund sent him immediately from London thirty enormous cases full of clothing and supplies of every kind.

BANK CLERK'S PARENTS DIDN'T FEEL SO BADLY

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 6. (By Mail to New York)—A city bank clerk decided after many sleepless nights to enlist. But he shied at the task of telling his fond parents, who live in the country, feeling sure it would break their hearts to have him go to the front. Finally, after profound thought, he wrote them, imparting the momentous news gently as possible taking care to point out that he couldn't resist the call of duty. Few days later a letter from his mother arrived, saying: "Glad you've joined the army. It will be a nice change for you."

AN ITALIAN NEWSBOY WINS FAME AS POET

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Praised by Ruskin, Gosse and Swinburne for verse written while he was in his 'teens, Scharmel Iris, once a hustling newsie, is doing literary hack work, teaching Italian and fingering happily today "Lyrics of a Lad," his first book, and what is said to be the first book of verse by an Italian published in English in this country.

Iris was a newsie when Ruskin, the great English critic, praised his verse. When he was thirteen the poet Swinburne wrote to a New York paper a tribute to his verse. Yet in spite of this recognition Iris continued as a factory worker. He is now twenty-five years old, and so far as finances are concerned, a literary hack, but his book is on sale and, Iris is happy.

"It will rebound to the credit of my dear Italy," he says.

UNCLE SAM TO GET BIDS ON SUBMARINES

Washington, Dec. 15.—The navy department was scheduled today to open its bids for several new submarines. One of the group will be larger than Germany's famous death dealing vessel, the U-9.

The department plans call for the largest submarines in the world—a vessel of such power and construction that she can accompany the fleet wherever it might go.

SHORT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Republican Organization Outlines Policy to be Adopted

DOUBT AS TO REFORM BILLS

Governor Brumbaugh Expected to Staud Firmly by His Promise to Give the People of the State Beneficient Laws, and the Vares May Stand Back of Him.

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—The coming session of the Pennsylvania legislature is to be limited to three months, or, at the most, four, with the odds in favor of the shorter period

The policy to be followed by the Republican organization, which is in control of the legislature, will be to reduce the flood of legislation instead of increasing it.

The short session plan, together with the policy of reducing legislation, has been decided upon, not by members of the legislature, but by United States Senator Penrose and State Senators McNichol and Vare, who got together yesterday in Penrose's offices for the first of a series of conferences with respelt to the approaching legislative session.

Just what the policy of the organization will be with respect to measures dealing with child labor, local option, workmen's compensation and like matters, will develop later. Governor-elect Brumbaugh has declared emphatically that he will fight for these measures, even if he has to fight alone. If such a situation should develop, and those who know the affiliations of the potential organization leaders with the interests that would oppose such legislation, believe that it is sure to come, the Vares, who have seized every occasion to take their stand with the governor-elect, would probably line up behind him.

OLD AUSTRIAN RESERVISTS SENT INTO GALICIA

(By United Press)

Rome, Nov. 1 (By Mail to New York)—Vienna messages state the oldest reservists, who since the outbreak of the war, have been guarding the roads, railways and public buildings, have been sent to the front in Galicia. It is illegal to take reservists out of their own province, but the Emperor Franz Joseph got over this difficulty by issuing a proclamation: "In view of the heroic dash of the Austrian army, the emperor has granted the reservists also the honor of going to fight for the defense of the fatherland."

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED IN A CLEVELAND FIRE

Cleveland, O., Dec. 15.—A natural gas explosion in a two-story apartment house, at 1616 Madison avenue, last night, killed seven persons, seriously injured eight and wrecked the two-story building.

Windows for a block around were broken and persons in a drug store across the street were thrown off their feet and injured by broken glass.

The exact cause of the explosion has not been ascertained. A strong odor of escaping gas had been noticed in the vicinity. A photograph studio, occupied the first floor of the apartment and it is supposed the escaping gas became ignited there.

The explosion blew the walls of the building and the wreckage at once caught fire. Firemen dragged the dead and dying from the blazing mass at the risk of their lives.

In conclusion he said that suggested ideas are the basis of emotions and amke habits and character; that to get the child to think of beautiful things is to build a beautiful character, closing with the beautiful quotation "As a man thinketh, so is he."

Other Speakers

The second speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Arthur Henry Harrop, instructor in Meadville college, spoke upon the subject, "Getting Ready for the Day," emphasizing the need of physical, mental and spiritual preparedness by several very illustrative stories.

The concluding address was made by Dr. Alfred C. Thompson, principal of the Brockport normal school, who, although limited in time, gave a very instructive review of his subject, "Essentials in Education," naming the teacher; the pupil and the subject as the essentials and urging the necessity of an expert manner in bringing the pupil and the subject together.

Tuesday Morning

Drr. Colegrove, the first speakne tl morning, spoke upon the importance of reading and problems in teaching it. The topic was handled masterfully. The speaker classified music and reading as twin arts. Reading, he said, was the most important of all branches studied by the child. No man or woman ever writes to the teacher asking to have his child excused from studying reading. Reading is the keynote to all other work. If the child does act gain a mastery of reading in the first grades he is handicapped for life. It is there that his attitude toward books ods formed, and that attitude will be a good index to all his other work. The teacher should recognize the delicacy of the problem with which he is dealing and handle it delicately. Language is a medium between souls, and books give us thne best from the past.

The secodn period was occupied by Dr. Harrop, who spoke upon the "Characteristics of Definition."

The last period was occupied by Dr. Thompson, who has had extensive experience in the selcting of teachers, first as superintendent of school and now as the principal of a normal.

In his lecture he quoted Mark Twain and advised all teachers to read "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn. He believes every teachr must know boys and have a sense of humor.

He read two letters from persons applying to him for teachers, giving requirements some of which were, discipline, health, and appearance, dwelling principally upon health and its importance.

The quotation "Teachers are born and not made," is false, he said. They are being made all the time.

Lecture This Evening

This evening the lecture in the opera house will be "Color Line and Picket Guard," by Montaville Flowers. Edward Amherst Ott says: "Mr Montaville Flowers, as a leader in illustrative acting, has taken a step forward that will be epoch making. His lectures, typified in his Hamlet creat a new adn greater field for himself, a new and higher standard of Lyceum achievement."
